To Our Football Team

By Lawrence Olson '30

E'en tho' you've lost a game or two
We thought you should have won,
Tho' defeat has turned upon you
Ere half the games are done,
Tho' you are not that winner
Which the daily press reveals,
You are to us what's finer—
A team of high ideals!

We care not for those medals
Or silver-plated cups.
We'll help you in your trials
When you've your standards up.
Victories fade in twilight
That darkness soon conceals,
But you will stand forever bright—
Our team of high ideals!

As in the preceding five years, the art work has been under the supervision of the art instructor. This year Miss McElhinney has worked faithfully with her staff who have designed and cut the linoleum blocks for all the art work except the border which they designed but for which they did not cut the blocks. The staff is indeed grateful to this department without whose help the Annual would certainly suffer. It is to the artists we owe the color and tone of the entire book. We are glad to give credit to the following:

Margie Channon '30
Nicholas Gartelos '31
Theodore Gowdy '31
Leander Thomas '30

Foreword

THE Staff of 1930 has devoted the art work in this edition of the Watch Tower to athletics, not only to remind you of the new Public Schools Stadium, but also to show our appreciation for it. We sincerely hope that, as you turn the pages of this book, pleasant memories of the athletic events as well as of all the other activities of the past year at the Crimson and Gold school will be yours, now and always.

PRINCIPAL EARL HANSON

Dedication

TO Earl Hanson who, as a former history teacher and now as principal of Rock Island High School, holds a high place in the estimation of all the students and faculty alike, because of his fairness, his kind and cheerful personality, and his willingness to help, we, the Staff, respectfully dedicate this 1930 Annual.

Class History

MINNIE DOCKTERMAN

Our class and its members I sing, who, first in all,
A noble voyage o'er the sea of school
Hath done. Three years they took the glorious course
Of higher thought; through Jove's beneficence,
Withstood the tests of halls and trials of field,
Brought honor well deserved to their school,
From which, their voyage done, they now must part.

Tell, Muse, the cause; tell how, through every year,
The Class of '30 put forth all their best,
Accomplished much that won them wide renown,
And fortified themselves with high ideals.

A school of many years, serene, sedate,
Its walls o'er grown with vines, its corridors
Abounding with the trophies of past days,
Three years ago threw back its heavy doors
To welcome members destined to win fame.
As Sophomores we were the hapless prey
For haughty Seniors and those next in line,
But not for long did we retain the green
Of juvenility. Soon cast we off
Timidity and fear; soon we began
Our zealous high school life. We organized,
For lacking central guidance we were lost.
Fred Potter took the helm and guided well;
One Robert Walters was the next in rank,
And Bonita Dunlap was our Sophomore scribe.
Two months had reenforced our confidence
When we first ventured an event alone,
Occasion for festivity and mirth,
Our first school party. What a gala date!
With zest we entered every open stream
Of our new life. Our active president
The school elected to cheer leader's place,
And was a member of the Watch Tower Board.
Then two, by merit of their gridiron skill,
One Earnest Taylor and one Norman Blunt,

STADIUM NUMBER

Won fame as members of the football team,
The fighting team that was Tri-city Champ.
Among the few upon the basketball team
Dean Paulsen won a place. The track team, too,
Was strengthened by three Sophomore recruits.
The names of '30's members graced the cast
Of "Lelawala," Glee Club Indian play.
The school forensics claimed three Sophomores:
Two extempore speakers, and one in debate.
And last, the year come to its close, we find
The academic honor roll contained
The names of eight. Thus nineteen thirty's class
Acquitted themselves in that, their Sophomore year.

Oh Muse, draw yet the curtain back awhile;
Assist me still to accurately depict
The course we took the next, our Junior year,
To add more glory to our name, to make
Our reputation and our school's esteemed.

The summer months rolled by, and in the fall
The pulse of school life quickened once again,
Again the doors swung open to admit
The upper classmen, and new classmen, too.
No longer unaware of high school ways,
We quickly organized to further best
A full and most successful Junior year;
We voted Robert Walters president,
Frank Canedy for post of second rank,
Jane Wolters for amanuensis, then,
In field and hall the members of our class
Performed with zeal and captured honor great.
Among the football men full eleven names
Of Juniors graced the list; and of these, two,
Carl Brachtel and Earnest Taylor, gained more fame
As members of the Tri-city football team.
In basketball four juniors played to win—
And helped to win Tri-city championship.
The track team, too, experienced great success,
Were Big Nine champs, with eight of '30's men.
Our journalistic merit evinced itself

When four served on the Watch Tower Annual Staff.
Frank Canedy and Earl McInnis were apt
As members of the Watch Tower management.
The class dramatic talent was evidenced
By the skillful presentation of "The Bride",
The Junior play, with Virginia Trent, the bride,
And Robert Walters taking leading roles;
By participation of five in Speech Class plays,
And by Elizabeth Andersch's work in "The Goose Hangs High."
Social events proved most successful, too.
The Junior-Senior party brought much joy;
Then later came our turn to entertain
The upper classmen at their last affair.
The Juniors placed again in forensic teams,
With two in declamation, three in debate,
And three in extempore speaking. Once again
We showed our intellectual aptitude
With fourteen on the full-year honor roll.
And so the milestones of our Junior year
Were passed, and so our class exploits were done.

And now we came upon our Senior year,
Our last in the halls of dear Rock Island High.
We were resolved to make that time abound
With high achievements, so that when we left
The underclassmen might look back and say,
"Theirs was a glorious year, marked by success."

Oh Muse, tell how we realized that wish;
Tell how the active members of our class
Such deeds performed to justify the joy
We feel at retrospection of the past.

The president of '30's class we made
James Martin, vice president, Bob Walters, and Petite Jane Wolters, secretary again.
And now let us recall in every field
The fame we won, the high success enjoyed.
Athletics first, and football first of all:
'Twas in our Senior year the stadium,
The finest high school stadium in the Mid-west,

Was opened. Captain Taylor and fourteen more
Belonged to '30's class. Our team triumphed
In the dedication game against Grant High,
And played commendably the season through.
The Senior boys enjoyed most berths upon
The basketball team, the skillful team that won
The District contest and Big Nine championship.
Dean Paulsen was their captain, and all five
Were stars. So we began a trail of fame,
And in most fields we prospered just as well.
We won three more Big Nine championships,
In girls' declam, stenographic, and debate,
And always with the Seniors showing well.
Dramatics had a most successful year:
The charming Senior Class play, "Smilin' Thru,"
With Robert Walters and Kathleen Doran in the leads,
Was highly praised. "The Patsy," Dramatic Club play,
Had Seniors in all roles excepting one.
The Annual Staff and Management includes
The names of many Seniors. Eileen Ward
Is editor-in-chief; Frank Canedy,
The business manager. The Watch Tower
Sponsored a popularity contest won
By Seniors—Dorothy Scott and James Martin.
Our festival occasions of the year,
The Junior-Senior party, and our last
Affair, the Junior-Senior reception, were
Bright dates upon our social calendar.
Our scholastic standing, as evinced
By members on the Senior honor roll,
Was first of any graduating class.
Some fifty-four were on that worthy list,
With active Lawrence Olson surpassing all.

Our class and its members I've sung, who, first in all,
A noble voyage o'er the sea of school
Hath done. With keen regret we bid adieu,
Yet happy that for three years we partook
Of this school's bounty; deeper knowledge, true,
But even more important, high ideals.

Senior Class Prophesy

Carl Brachtel

Time: 1945.

Scene: Inside of suite of office rooms in prominent office building, Buenos Aires, Argentina.

Characters: John Bloom, Carl Brachtel.

(A knock at the door is heard).

C. Come in! (John Bloom enters with the same old smile).

C. Well, of all people! Where on earth did you come from?

J. Oh, I just dropped back from the twenty-third naval parley in London.

C. Did you have any luck?

J. Oh, not bad. I fixed it so the old U. S. A. got the best of Great Britain for once.

C. Fine! Say, I've got something here you will be glad to see.

J. What's that?

C. A Rock Island Argus, owned and operated by Charles and Jack Volk, with news of some of our old classmates. Eileen Ward is editor, you know.

J. I can hardly wait! I feel childish already.

C. (Opening paper). Here we are. On the society page we have a late picture of Mary Wright who is proprietor of the smartest clothing shoppe in Paris. Mindelle Friedman and Irene Klassman are her star models.

J. (Reading over Carl's shoulder). Why, it says Willard Condo of the R. K. O. is thinking of marrying his leading lady, Virginia Trent. That would make the fifth one he's married.

C. Yes, but Norm Blunt is still one up on him. (Turns page). Oh, look! Earl McInnis, famous dancing star is sueing his wife, formerly Alice Olson, for a divorce on the grounds that she beat him by unfair means in a game of Pinocle.

J. (Solemnly). Here is the picture of Alta Beattie, who easily surpasses Florence Nightingale. Alta and her helpers Minnie Metcalf and Lornabelle Kutz have bravely acted as nurses on the very field of battle in the war against hoop skirts and bustles. Ed Reimers is the head surgeon.

C. Boy, look at the elephants!

J. Yes, the great McLean and Moos Circus must be in town. John and Harold have certainly astounded the world with their show, haven't they?

C. And how! Look! The world's tallest man is Art Collins, and the shortest lady is Jane Wolter.

J. Who would have thought that Hod Urie would turn out to be a star wild man from Borneo?

C. Earl Potter is doing a double roll. He is the World' strongest man and sings romantic ballads in a side show. (Turns Page).

J. Now there is something! Helen Coulson, Elizabeth Andersch, and Geraldine Ballard are characters in "Smilin' Through" which has been revived at the Civic Repertory Theater in New York City.

C. Capacity crowds have shed approximately 324 barrels of tears according to latest statistics.

C. I see where that long friendship between Alice Tuleen and Marjorie Youngert was nearly broken up.

J. How's that?

C. It seems they both fell in love with the same iceman. Just before they came to hairpulling and scratching, they discovered the iceman was married and had twenty-seven other sweethearts on his route.

J. Who was the iceman?

C. (Searching) Why, Bob Walters. (Laughter).

C. Being a diplomat, you should see Gretchen Eichelsdoerfer and Eva Handelman quite often.

J. Oh, yes, yes! They are both holding out for the dismissing of assemblies by section in all Illinois high schools. Eva has been filibustering for the past two sessions. Just as soon as Eva sits down Gretchen will continue where Eva left off. Minnie Dockterman has worn out sixty-four typewriters taking down the speech.

C. Speaking of typewriters, how did Jack Rasley come out in the International Contest?

J. He upset all the dope by establishing the unheard of record of 923 words a minute for 15 consecutive hours—including two stops for meals.

C. Say, this sport page is a sight for sore eyes! Bob Theus' great Rock Island High School football team defeated Moline 78 to 0.

J. By the way, what ever happened to Ernie Taylor?

C. Oh, he and Abe Cohn are selling second-hand cars. Ernie sells them and Abe handles the money. Right now, Ernie is specializing in selling Chevrolet roadsters. He boasts a great line of dependable cars ranging from $2.75 up.

J. Why, Clif Scheuerman was defeated by Frank Canedy for the Open Golf Championship. Clif attributes his loss to a poor putt caused by the incessant talking of his caddy Charles Carpenter. Frank attributes his success entirely to "Luckies" and as a result is permanently safeguarded from that future shadow.

J. I heard that King Edwards' night club was raided.

C. Oh, it is raided every week, but every time Chief of Police Paulsen raids the place, he falls under the spell of Joan Crawford's blues singing—she is King's main attraction you know—and King immediately takes steps to offer Dean some of his special 188 proof, and as a result they throw Dean out about five o'clock the following morning because of his boistrous attempts at "Sweet Adeline".

J. Look at that clever advertisement by Lee Thomas. It says, "Eat at The Gus Brust Beanery—The Beanery with personality".

C. John Schroeder and Joe De Vacht are his two main customers. Both have two-year old charge accounts. Gus would have gone bankrupt because of these over-due accounts long ago except for the fact that he finally sold his non-wrinkling necktie to Jim Martin the prominent television announcer, thereby warding off the disaster.

J. Well, Chick Burke is Milan's new Town Crier. He is announcing to the townsfolk that Dorothy Scott has been elected Queen of the 1945 Mardi Gras in New Orleans, as a result of Roy Glockhoff's stump speaking against her.

C. Aw, shucks! Hod Voss, the great electrician, failed in his attempt to signal Mars.

J. What was the trouble?

C. Why, it seems that on the night of the trial, "Rink" Anderson had his pilot, "Babe" Potter fly him over to his date; and on the way Potter took Hod's search-light for the air beacon. He landed immediately and smashed the entire observatory. Potter's training as a mile runner in his high school days came in handy, for Voss is still chasing him and at present the betting odds at London are 35 to 34 in favor of Babe's escape.

J. (Looking at watch). Good heavens! I have an appointment with the President of the United States, John Graham, in two hours. I'll have to hurry.

C. Well, I'll see you later. We must finish looking up our 1930 graduating class.

J. (Leaving). I'll say! Well, so long.

C. So long, John.

Class of 1931

This year has been one of the most successful ones in the history of junior classes. Under the efficient leadership of Ben Tallman, president, Richard Schwenker, vice president, and Florence Lippens, secretary-treasurer, the class of '31 has made numerous and large accomplishments which have aided furthering the standard of R. I. H. S.

The lead of the Dramatic club play, the first outstanding event of the school year, was captured by Marian Bort, a newcomer. The junior class play, "Green Stockings", also obtained Marian Bort for the initial role with Richarl Schwenker playing opposite her.

Girls' and Boys' Declam teams claimed Ruth Mary Tonn, Virginia Hubbart, Helen Sollenberger, Vernette Whalen, and Ben Tallman, who was the Big Nine representative of the boy's team. The Debate squad, which captured both the Triangle and Big Nine meets, was represented by Ben Tallman, Harold Grams, Florence Lippens, and Robert Tracy. On the Extemp team, the names of Mable Eklund, Irvin Forgy, Herbert Lindstrom, Florence Lippens, Robert Maucker, Max Steck, Ben Tallman, and Robert Tracy appear. Ben Tallman was the Big Nine representative in this event, also.

Robert Baker, Helen Churchill, William Kinney, Mable Eklund, Theodore Gowdy, and Nicholas Gartelos were active on the Watch Tower Annual Staff, and Ben Tallman and Harvey Hulstedt were on the Board.

In athletics the conscientious juniors again held their own, placing Nathan Lerman, Clair Parchert, and Albertus Barnes on the football team; Vincent Johnson and Albertus Barnes on the basketball team; and Rene Duyvejonck, Ashley Hensley, Lee Forgy, Nathan Lerman, Clair Parchert, Ed Potter, Dan Kelly, and Walter Kimmel on the track team.

The junior journalists who compiled the Watch Tower Argus page for the last semester of '29 were Harvey Hulstedt, Dorothy Manhard, Charles Maynard, and Ed Potter. The first semester staff of '30 included Lucille Barth, Jeanne Bodewig, Helen Churchill, Harold Grams, Ruth Anne Heisey, Aurolyn Hollingsworth, and Genevieve Sweasy.

To end the history of the class of '31 with a bang, we present the yell leaders, Ben Tallman, and Jim Blaser and Ashley Hensley, alternates.

Coaches

J. R. CLARK

Much of the success of the Crimson's Athletic teams is due to the work of Mr. J. R. Clark, athletic manager of Rock Island high school. Mr. Clark has conducted athletic games and meets in such an efficient manner that the various teams have always been assured of having cash available for buying new, up-to-date, athletic equipment whenever it was needed. It is very probable that the new stadium would not have been erected had athletics been managed by anyone who did not possess Mr. Clark's business ability.

HARRY BEHNAMANN

Having consistently produced winning teams showing high sportsmanship and a fighting spirit, our Head football coach, Harry E. Behnamann, has won the respect of the student-body and faculty year after year.

The fact that Rock Island High School's teams have been, and still are the drawing card of Tri-City games shows the high standards of their coaching. This credit should be attributed to Coach Behnamann.

The teams under his coaching have been drilled in the value of playing the game hard but clean. They have respected his principles of play and have carried them out in the games. Thus the fine sportsman-like tactics have been formed and continued—thanks to our football coach.

ROBERT BURGITT

We do not see Mr. Burgitt as frequently as we see our other teachers, but we cannot help likeing the splendid personality and whole hearted support which he has lent to the school as a coach. We feel that he hopes to make his team a real team, more for the benefit of the school than for the glory of his own and his team's names. Mr. Burgitt turned out a team that was able to complete a successful season, to win the District, Big Nine, and was a runner-up in the sectional tournament. His humorous but inspiring talks in handling the team, shows his real leadership.

His talks in assembly gave an added impetus to the season from the standpoint of the students. In his two years as basketball coach here, Mr. Burgitt has produced championship teams.

MR. KIMMEL

It isn't a great test for an athletic coach to drill a team of all-star athletes, and with a feeling of pride and satisfaction watch them win victory after victory. Most anyone could do that. It is the coaching of a losing team that reveals the real worth of a trainer. Coach Kimmel has had many hardships to contend with throughout the track season. The ineligibility of star men and uncooperative spirit among others who may have been stars were continual sources of worry. Many other obstacles arose from time to time. By disregarding these troubles and making the most of a little, Mr. Kimmel disclosed his real worth to the student body. The fact that the outcomes of the meets at the beginning of the season were not at all encouraging did not in the least discourage Mr. Kimmel. It seemed that he went about his work with an even greater determination. As the season progressed much improvement was noted in the team's performances. Mr. Kimmel has successfully undergone a very severe test, and deserves the friendship and respect that the student body has shown him.

Left Tackle

"Andy" earned his first varsity letter this year. He showed plenty of fight on both the offense and defense. His ability was proved by his stopping many of the opponents' plays.

Left Half Back

"Cully" was the fastest man in the backfield, and the leading scorer for the Crimson this year. This was his second and last year on the squad.

CHARLES BURKE
Right Half Back

"Chick", too, won his first varsity letter last fall. He was a shifty backfield man and a dependable player on both the offense and defense.

NORMAN BLUNT
Left End

"Norm" saw a great deal of action this year. He has been on the team for three years, and he showed a fighting spirit in every game he played.

WILLIAM BRUST
Full Back

"Willie" played his first year of football on Crimson squad last fall. He hit the line low and hard, and gained ground consistently throughout the season.

ABE COHEN
Right Tackle

"Abie" was the only sophomore on the team, and because of his fighting attitude, he obtained a regular position on line. With two more years to play, he should develop into a very valuable lineman.

WATCH 1930 TOWER

KING EDWARDS
Right End

King was the tallest player on the squad. He was the first down under punts, and he tackled hard. Many times he stopped the opposing players in their tracks.

NATHAN LERMAN
Left Guard

"Nate", too, is a Junior, and should see plenty of action next year. He played well on both offense and defense, and should develop into a valuable player.

CLAIR PARCHERT
Center

"Ox", the heaviest man on the team, exhibited in every game a fighting spirit that was hard to excel. He stopped many of the opponents' ball-carriers behind the line of scrimmage. He has one year left, and should be real material for next year's team.

JOHN SCHROEDER
Left End

"Newts" played his first year of football for the Crimson last fall. He was a consistent player, giving his best in every game he played. He had an ability to snag passes and get down under punts.

ROBERT THEUS
Fullback

"Curly" was the "Trojan" of the squad. His tackling and fight stopped many a play. He was the best passer and one of the best blockers on the squad. He earned his first varsity letter this year.

ROBERT WALTERS
Left Guard

"Bob", too, was on the varsity squad for the first time. Whenever he went into the game, he showed a fighting spirit that was hard to surpass. "Bob" always gave his best, and proved himself a valuable lineman.

IRVIN FORGY
Center

"Irv" played a good game whenever he was put in. He did not lack the weight necessary for a lineman. He is a junior, and this is his first year on the squad. We should hear more about him next year.

LAWRENCE OLSON
Right Guard

"Larry" was the fastest man on the line. He could always be depended upon to do his part. With his strength and fighting quality, opposing teams found him hard to take out.

EDWARD POTTER
Left Tackle

"All State" had the weight necessary for a good lineman. He is a Junior, and earned his first varsity letter this year. We should hear more about him next year.

EARNEST TAYLOR
Quarterback

"Earnie", captain of this year's team, proved himself a real leader. He was one of the best punters in the Tri-cities, and a capable passer and ballcarrier. It was "Earnie's kicking that kept the opponents from our goal. He has been on the squad for three years and will be greatly missed next year.

Left Guard

"Hod" played his first year on the varsity squad last fall. He had the fight and determination necessary for a lineman. He also is a Senior and receives the varsity letter for the first time.

STADIUM NUMBER

LAWRENCE ANDERSON
Center

"Rink" was one of the most consistent players on the team. There was hardly a game went by that did not have him down for points. "Rink's" height made him an ideal center; he proved himself capable of filling the place left by McDonald last year. "Rink" finishes school this year.

WILLIAM BRUST
Forward

"Willie" was the smallest and most scrappy player on the team. Where ever the ball was, "Willie" was also there. It was "Willie" who made the other teams scramble for the ball. His speed and his ability to follow up the shots counted for many of Rock Island's victories. His services will be lost by graduation.

DEAN PAULSEN
Captain—Forward

"Capt" was possessed with a fine eye which enabled him to sink baskets from all angles of the floor. His speed, basket-eye, and general all around playing placed him on the Tri-City team. He also won places on nearly all of the tournament teams. He is a senior and his services will be greatly missed next year.

ROBERT THEUS
Forward

"Bob" was the only curly headed player on the squad, and although he was not a regular, he turned in some classy playing. "Bob" had a dead eye for the basket and garnered several points for the Crimson. This is his first and last year on the varsity basketball squad.

ALBERTUS BARNES
Forward

"Boob" was the only junior on the varsity team. He played on the varsity squad last year and earned his letter. His speed and ability to sink long and short shots made him a valuable man to have on the team. He is the only letterman around which Coach Burgitt can build a team next year. He has that scrappy spirit which makes him ideal for a mainstay.

CHARLES CARPENTER
Guard

"Carp" came to us this year from Reynolds; he proved to be a valuable man and an asset to the team. "Carp" could fill the guard position in easy style. He was handicapped by playing an entirely new style of play under Coach Burgitt, but by the end of the season, he was one of the most consistent players on the team. He is a senior and will not be with us next year.

JOHN SCHROEDER
Guard

"Newts" was an ideal guard to advance the ball down the floor in a hurry. Convincing the coach that he was a basketball player, he proved to us that he was one. He readily filled the guard position left vacant by Durkee. This is "Newts" first year on the team, and his last, as he is graduating in June.

HOWARD URIE
Guard

"Hod" played a steady game at back guard and proved that he could sink baskets, an ability that is missing in most guards. The improvement of his playing from last year was noticed considerably. "Hod" is a senior, and played last year on the varsity basketball squad.

JACK BAUMEL
Dashes

"Jack" earned his first letter this year. He is the littlest member of the track team, and also one of the fastest. Jack placed mostly in the 50 yard dashes. This is his last year as a wearer of the High's colors.

RENE DUYVEJONCK
Dashes

"Rene" is a junior and has another year of competition left. He ran the 100 and 220 in fast time, and also was a member of the relay team. He hardly ever failed to get some points in every track meet.

ASHLEY HENSLEY
High Hurdles—Dashes

"Ash" was the only junior on this year's team that had earned a letter last year. Ash was a dependable man in both the high hurdles and the dashes. Another year's competition should make him a valuable man.

CLAIR PARCHERT
Weights

"Ox" is the star weight man on the team, heaving the discus as well as the shot-put. He heaves the shot well over the forty foot mark. As he is only a Junior, he will be one of the mainstays on next year's team.

CHARLES BURKE
Middle Distance

"Chick" represented the High in every meet by running the 440. He hardly ever failed to place, and could be depended upon to get at least five points in every meet. He is a senior and will not be with us next year.

KING EDWARDS
High Jump—High Hurdles
Broad Jump

"King" was the most valuable man on the track team. He was one of the best high hurdlers that Rock Island has ever had. He hardly ever failed to garner three firsts in any meet. King is a senior and his services will be greatly missed next year.

LAWRENCE OLSON
Captain—Distance—Dashes

"Larry" is a valuable man in both the distances and the dashes. Hardly a meet went by without him getting some points. He is a senior and carries the Crimson and Gold ribbons for the last time.

CLAIR STROMBECK
High Jump

"Clair" has a pair of long legs that enables him to excell in the high jump. He placed in practically every meet. Clair has been on the track team for three years and his services will be missed considerably next year.

Ideal Student Contest

Dorothy Scott and James Martin, voted the ideal students of Rock Island High School in a contest sponsored by the Watch Tower Annual this spring, are worthy representatives of the Class of '30 and the school as a whole. Both have made very enviable records during their three years at high school. They have been leaders in social and club activities, and have always been capable and dependable students. Their achievements, together with their friendliness and sociability, have won for them the lasting admiration of their fellow students.

Others who are also worthy of mention as ideal students are Carl Brachtel, Helen Rolf, Howard Urie, and Mary Wright. These four students were runners-up in the Watch Tower Annual contest, and were the ideals of many of their fellow students. They, too, have been leaders during their high school careers, and are students to be proud of.

Not only should we feel proud of all six of these students, but we should feel indebted to them for all they have given to make Rock Island High a better school. They have set a splendid example for the under classmen to follow.

Alpha

Aim: To bring together all freshmen and sophomores, discover their latent ability, and train them for later organization work.

This club is a valuable organization to the underclassmen as it gives the new students a chance to become better acquainted with their classmates; it gives them an idea of how organization work is carried on; and it also gives them a start in participating in programs.

Miss McFarland and Miss Krueger are the sponsors of the Alpha club and the officers are:

President—Dorothy Lindstrom
Vice President—Henrietta Hain
Secretary Treasurer—Lorraine Carlson
Sergeant-at-arms—Marjorie Eichelsdoerfer

The following are enrolled in the club:

Blackhawk Tribe

Officers:

Chief ..... Clair Strombeck
Sachem ..... Dorothy Scott
Keeper of the Birchbark and Wampum ..... Ruth Ann Heisey
Council ..... Mr. Martin, Mr. Shantz, Miss Liebbe, Miss Irvine, Mr. Richardson.

The Blackhawk Tribe is composed of students in the social science department, with a membership limited to 40. The aims of the club are to foster an interest in current problems and local history, and to develop leadership. The pow-wows of the Tribe are held on the first and third Tuesdays of each month.

During the year, the Tribe added "The Great Divide" to the school's art collection; acted as business manager of the concessions during the football season and the sectional basketball tournament; and sponsored the popularity contest at the Frolic. Among the social activities was the Christmas party at the Davenport Lend-A-Hand Club. The members of the club have taken a prominent part in social activities, especially in forensics and dramatics.

The Indians holding membership in the Tribe are as follows:

Elizabeth Andersch	John Elmstedt	Herbert Lindstrom	Dorothy Scott
Naomi Austin	Roy Glockhoff	Florence Lippens	Helen Sollenberger
Geraldine Ballard	Harold Grams	Dorothy Manhard	Richard Spitznas
Lucille Barth	Margaret Groth	James Martin	Richard Stengel

Chemistry Club

The officers for the two semesters were:

First Semester: President, Fred Potter; Vice President, John Elmstedt; Secretary-Treasurer, Geraldine Ballard; Keeper of the Secret Formula, Elizabeth Andersch.

Second Semester: President, John Graham; Vice President, Fred Potter; Secretary-Treasurer, Geraldine Ballard; Keeper of the Secret Formula, Arline Lubbs.

Aim: To develop leadership in the students of chemistry, and interest and appreciation for the spirit and methods of chemistry on the part of all the students and the comunity.

Through the intense interest in chemistry, a club was formed this year with Mr. Baird as sponsor. This new organization showed a rapid growth in membership, and its participation in the Frolic was proof of its interest.

Meetings with relationship to chemistry, discussions and illustrated talks by students, motion picture films of chemical processes, and illustrated lectures by scientific men of the city were given during the year as well as social meetings.

The following members are enrolled:

Elizabeth Andersch
Virginia Anderson
Marcella Benson
Ray Bruch

Home Economics

President, Grace Lund; Vice President, Ella Hoefle; Secretary, Elsie Mejerle; Treasurer, Laura Post.

Aim: To foster a spirit of friendliness among the sections of the home economics department, and to develop the social aspects of the subject.

Only girls who are taking or have taken "Home Ec" in high school are eligible to belong to this organization.

The aim of the club was realized this year through the interesting and worthwhile meetings under the sponsorship of Miss Holland, and the officers for the year:

The following girls are members:

Molly Baumel
Lila Boetje
Mary Braem
Dean Brien
Frances Dean
Margaret De Wulf

Le Cercle Francais

Officers for the past year were:

Mary Wright, president; Jack Rasley, first vice president; Lucia Mae Thompson, second vice president; Grace Fritz, assistant second vice president; Margaret De Wulf, secretary-treasurer; Kathleen Doran, second secretary-treaurer.

Aim: To acquaint the students with French life and customs, and to promote fluency in the speaking of the language.

This year Miss Caloine, who has been the sponsor of the French club since its existence seven years ago, had a third year French class, the first since 1926, where only French was spoken. Every Friday the class period was devoted to French conversation. These students, as well as those of the first and second year, had a French correspondent, and received and wrote letters in French.

The presentation of an artistic tableau of the balcony scene of Romeo and Juliet was one of the main attractions at the Frolic.

This year the club sponsored a 3-act comedy, "Chatard et Cie," given by the French players of the State University of Iowa. This enterprise was a dramatic as well as a financial success.

First Semester:

President: Herbert Lindstrom
Vice President: James Blaser
Secretary: Minnie Metcalf
Treasurer: Vincent Johnson

Second Semester:

President: Herbert Lindstrom
Vice President: Geraldine Ballard
Secretary: James Blaser
Treasurer: Vincent Johnson

Aim: To gain collateral knowledge in connection with the regular reading in Latin, and to create a greater appreciation of our debt to the Roman civilization.

The club members are the advanced Latin students, or those taking third or fourth year of Latin.

Bi-monthly meetings were held during the regular class period, with discussions, reports, pictures, and lantern slides given by the students and Miss First, sponsor.

Band

Object: To give every student an opportunity to study an instrument as part of his education in the same manner as he studies any other subject, and to have a concert band for school activities, musical performances, and other occasions where it seems necessary to have the school represented.

Director: G. A. Berchekas.

The band enjoyed probably the most successful year in its history, gaining noteworthy recognition in this part of the state as a musical organization. Two well-attended concerts were given during the school year. In addition to this, the band captured fourth place in the Northwest Sectional Contest of class A bands, held at Rockford.

Girls' Junior Glee Club

The purpose of the Girls' Junior Glee club is to teach girls to read and appreciate girls' part music. During the course of the year, the girls are taught to read music in every key, and numerous part-songs are studied. In developing a song artistically, the girls are taught to observe tone production, phrasing, diction, and interpretation. One can easily understand that this type of work is an excellent preparation for Treble Clef work and so it is that toward the close of each semester try-outs are held in the Girls' Junior Glee club for the next semester's Treble Clef work. The club this year numbers nearly 60 girls.

"The Patsy"

"Didn't Marion Bort make a charming Patsy?" "Weren't the costumes attractive?" and many other similar exclamations filled the halls of R. I. H. S. the next morning following the presentation of the Dramatic club play, "The Patsy", in the auditorium.

"The Patsy," by Barry Conners, is a clever, peppy, three-act comedy in which the love element appears as well as the laughs.

The only aim of Grace Harrington, Patsy's selfish, petulant sister, is to marry the wealthy social leader, Billy Caldwell. She completely ignores her former fiance, Tony Anderson, who was good enough to lavish her with money for four years. Unknown to Tony, Pat loves him deeply. He finally agrees to aid her in winning the man she loves, thinking Pat had somebody else. He soon discovers that it is Pat and not Grace that he really loves, but he is heart-broken because of that "other man." Grace, in a moment of despair, vainly endeavors to win back the handsome Tony. In a very clever wind-up, Pat finally tells Tony he is the man of her heart's desire, and all things end happily, Pat marrying Tony and Grace, Billy Caldwell.

Speech Class Plays

The casts of the speech class plays, "Miss Doulton's Orchids", "The Dear Departed", and "When the Horns Blow", performed before a full house in the auditorium, January 22. A piano selection by William Kinney and a toe dance by Kathleen Doran during the course of the play, "Miss Doulton's Orchids", were special features. The success of the three plays was due partly to the fine acting of the characters, and largely to the cooperation of the other members of the speech class who furnished stage properties, prompters, make-up, and music.

CHARACTERS:

"Celia Engaged!"

"Green Stockings"

"Green Stockings," the junior class play presented in the auditorium, March 21, was decidedly different from all others given in the high school.

The setting was English. The name was derived from an old English custom of requiring the eldest daughter of a family to wear green stockings at the wedding of a younger sister. Celia Faraday, the eldest daughter in the play, had already worn green stockings twice, and it looked seriously, when the play opened, as if she must do it once more, for Phyllis, her younger sister, was planning to perform the nuptial ceremony. Celia, however, acted by Marion Bort, took matters into her own hands, and gave her audience a splendid performance.

The string quartet, composed of Willis Stevenson, Eugene Holtzer, Ellsworth Ash, and Jack Baumel, furnished the musical program.

"Fifty Years Before"

"Smilin' Through"

The senior class play, "Smilin' Through", presented May 8 and 9 in the auditorium, proved to be one of the biggest and most successful ventures ever undertaken in the high school.

The play was filled with pathos and innumerable heart-rending moments causing many a "soaked hanky" among "us" audience. The story concerned principally the long-lived hatred of John Carteret for the family of Wayne. Kathleen Doran, as the heroine, displayed a sunny loving nature although compelled to endure such a long separation from the man she loved. Robert Theus deserves special praise for his sincere, spirited characterization of John Carteret, the brusk, testy old gentleman whose greatest fault was losing his temper. Kenneth Wayne, the dashing young son of Jeremiah Wayne, was forced to suffer for the incurable hatred of the two families which had instigated fifty years before. Kenneth, portrayed excellently by Robert Walters, went to war and returned to his Kathleen, a crippled and useless man. The scenery and lighting effects were effective and truly beautiful. One of the most pathetic moments occurred in the second act when lovely Moonyeen Clare slowly died, having been shot outright by her drunken, rejected suitor, Jeremiah Wayne.

Miss Cherryblossom

"Cherry Blossom", a modern musical comedy in three acts was presented by the Glee Clubs, June 6, in the auditorium. Although the last performance of the school year, it proved to be very successful and interesting.

Miss Evelyn Barnes, an American girl, who was born in Japan, and whose parents had died of fever, was brought up as a Japanese maiden. Her father's secretary used her property for his own ends. When Evelyn, who was known as Cherry Blossom, was about eighteen, Worthington, the secretary, returned to Japan on his yacht with a party of American friends. One of them, John Henry Smith, fell in love with Cherry and wished to marry her, but Kokemo, who had brought her up as his own daughter, wanted her to marry Togo, a rich politician. The action of the piece centered around Jack's efforts to outwit Togo and Kokemo. Eventually Cherry learned her true identity, came into her own property, married Jack, and all ended happily.

"Over the Teacups"

Jane (first sophomore): Oh, Julia, didn't we have a perfect time at the party last night.

Julia (second sophomore): Never had a better time in my life!

Jerry (a junior): For once you sophies actually got ahead of your upper classmen. Please tell me about it, Jane.

Jane (excitedly): Oh, Jerry, you should have been there! Our Biology Room was transformed as if by magic into a magnificent ball room, radiating with the Hallowe'en and Thanksgiving spirit! Ripe yellow pumpkins peeped from the corn stalks, stalked around the pillars. Red crepe paper streamers were flowing with big black turkeys here and there.

Julia: Oh boy, Franie Lear's orchestra surely was peppy! Why, it wasn't long before a large majority of the sophies were tripping the light fantastic like veterans.

Jane: I surely enjoyed the games and singing, didn't you, Julia?

Julia: Positively. And at nine o'clock we had cup cakes and eskimo pies. Why, I don't believe there ever was such a nice party.

Jane: Well, we danced again after the refreshments until ten o'clock, and then, to the familiar strains of "Home, Sweet, Home", we departed from our first party at high school. I think everyone enjoyed it immensely.

Jerry: Well, I'm glad you had a nice time, and here's hoping our Junior-Senior party is just as successful.

"Over the Teacups"

THE JUNIOR-SENIOR PARTY

Marg (a junior): My, our ball room was dressed up attractively for the party last night.

Mary (a senior): Yes, those Indian lanterns and gaudy blankets surely made it seem warm and cheerful. And I adored the Indian tepee built in the corner. The radiant fire burning in front of it made it so realistic.

Marg: Which of the games did you like the best, Mary?

Mary: I got a huge kick out of "Freezing Out." Although ancient as Methusaleh, I thought "Ring on String" was lots of fun, too.

Marg: I liked "Tucker Wants a Wife" and "The Concerted Sneeze" a lot. I'll never forget Johnny trying to carry a bean across the room with a straw. I thought I would split laughing.

Mary: They surely were involved in games of bridge and five hundred when I went into the other room. We have some regular "sharks" in our school.

Marg: Yeh? Well, I just couldn't concentrate on cards while the "Queens of Syncopation" were doing their stuff and dancing was going on.

Mary: The ice cream and cookies were so good they tasted like more.

Marg: Well, I for one dreaded refreshment time, for "going home time" follows it too closely.

Mary (laughing): Oh Marg, you're so funny! So, I see, another little girl dreaded the familiar strains of "Home, Sweet Home" as much as I did.

Marg: Oh! There goes the bell; hurry, Mary! We can talk about the party some other time.

"Over the Teacups"

"THE FROLIC"

Lou: Hello, Dot. Mind if I eat with you?

Dot: Glad to have you, Lou. Go to the Frolic last night?

Lou: You bet. They had a "hot time in the old school" last night. I was in the side-show for the Girls' Hi-Y, "An Old-Fashioned School", though, and didn't get to attend many others. Tell me about them, will you?

Dot: Well, the French Club presented a romantic little play, "Romeo and Juliet." The Boys' Hi-Y displayed the latest gowns and showed us girls how they should be worn, in an elaborate style show. Of course you saw the German club's booth where dressed dolls and paper flowers were sold. I never knew Babe Potter was an acrobat until I saw his stunts for the Chemistry club's presentation, "An Optical Illusion."

Lou: Wasn't the Physics club fortunate in securing the services of the renowned "Medicine Man", none other than Howard Voss?

Dot: Exceedingly. The Blackhawk Tribe's playlet, "Parking in the Park", gave some excellent pointers on how to make a girl love you for one evening.

Lou: Huh! That must have been interesting.

Dot: Our children, the Alphas, had a fishing pond to add new joys to their childhood memories. "Hasty Harry", presented by the Treble Cleff club, was both wild and rare. The Latin club enacted, by means of shadows, the tragic story of "Lord Ullin's Daughter." Fortunes were told by a very famed fortune teller acquired by the Home Economics club, and they also dispatched telegrams to all parts of the building.

Lou: I did get to see the minstrel show given by the Boy's Glee club, and it seriously rivalled the main show, "Sunny Side Minstrel", which was a credit to the Dramatic club, with its snappy dancing and singing.

Dot: Aren't you glad Bob Walters and Virginia Hubbart were selected King and Queen of the Frolic?

Lou: Awfully glad. Well, Dot, I guess I'll depart now and go to my locker. So long!

JUNIOR-SENIOR RECEPTION

Lois (a senior): "I feel sorta blue now that the last party in high school is over for me."

Nan (a junior): "I should think you would. My! What a party it was. The ballroom looked its nicest, all decorated with pink and blue lanterns. I suppose I liked the decorations especially because peonies are my favorite flowers."

Lois: "I thought the idea of the juniors receiving the seniors in the Grand March was so cute. And didn't the juniors make perfect hosts and hostesses?"

Nan: "Say, who were all the hosts and hostesses?"

Lois: "Didn't you see them standing at the door, receiving? They were Keith Bleuer, William Dahlen, William Kinney, Leland Haskell, Virginia Hubbart, Ben Tallman, Vernette Whalen, Florence Lippens, and Helen Park."

Nan: "Jack Rasley, William Kinney, Roger McRoberts, and Dick Schwenker added a pleasant bit to the program by warbling, didn't they? Also the two aesthetic dancers provided by Maureen Bennett."

Lois: "I thought it was nice to have radio entertainment in the card room, and that was "Pettit's" orchestra, wasn't it?"

Nan: "Yeah. Ben Tallman had the great privilege of presenting senior gifts. Ha! Ha! Never mind, he'll get his next year."

Lois: "The strawberries on ice cream and wafers tasted very refreshing, did they not?"

Nan: "Everything was perfect. I'll bet the seniors won't soon forget that party."

What Do Your Clothes Tell the World About You?

Do they look spic and span; well tailored and well pressed—do they help give the impression that you have "steam in the boiler" and that you are a go-getter?

You know the other type—worn, shiny suit. etc.

We'll see to it that you get the style; the fit in your clothes as well as the quality, too, at a reasonable outlay

HISTORY FLUNKIN' MICROBE

History flunkin' microbes' come to our house to stay;
To make us awful weary and lead our minds astray,
To make us flunk our classes an' forget to study too.
History flunkin' microbe is a huntin' after you.

And when the days is nice and warm and when the skies is blue
And the wind in gentle murmurs goes "wooooooo,"
Then you'd better tend your lessons and mind what you're about
'Cause the microbe'll get you, ef you don't watch out.

An' once there was a senior at didn't like to cram,
An' got cold feet mos' ever time his classes had exam.
An' just a'fore commencement the microbe found 'em out
And looted his diplomy 'cause he didn't watch out.

So when your heart is lightsome an'
'A springin' with the spring
Jes' listen mighty keerful an' you'll hear the microbe sing;
An' you'll be flunkin' classes 'fore you know what you're about,
An' the microbe'll get you, ef you don't watch out.

IN ASSEMBLY

(Guess the tunes)

Number I

Oh, I wish I could go to my locker;
To my locker I wish I could go.
I have sat here so long I am weary,
And my spirits are burning quite low.
Oh, I wish I could sharpen my pencil;
I have broken the lead twice, I know.
But a test I "have got" in my English
And I need some more lead, don't cha' know.

Number II

Stamp, stamp, stamp,
They're on the rampage;
Hanson's standing at the door.
What will happen to them now,
If they don't dig in and plow
Oh, we know into the office they will pour.

Number III

My compact is telling my fortune
My fortune says "shiny" I swear,
My compact is telling my fortune,
And oh, dear, just look at my hair.
Bring back, bring back,
Oh, bring back my compact to me, to me.
Bring back, bring back,
Oh, bring back my compact to me.

Number IV

I'm forever rolling marbles,
Pretty marbles on the floor.
So far they roll,
To the door they stroll;
And all I aim at is the goal.
Students always laughing,
How they stamp and roar;
I'm forever rolling marbles,
Pretty marbles on the floor.

Number V

I played my pony in room A.
That's the day I couldn't say
Caesar had the right of way.
I faw down in that test.
I had written on my cuff, room enough
For that stuff,
But our Doxey was too rough.
I faw down in that test.
I wrote and wrote and bluffed all I could;
She laughed and said, "Another time
Perhaps you'll study."
Oh, the grade that paper had;
It was sad; worse than bad.
Then I knew I was a cad;
I faw down in that test.

"Here Come the Folks"

Time and again that afternoon in 1838, the young blacksmith had dropped his tools and walked expectantly from his shop down to where the trail wound eastward across the prairie to the horizon.

It was the day when his family was due to arrive from Vermont; the wife and children whom he had not seen for a year; among them the infant son born a few months after John Deere had left Vermont to seek fortune in the West.

Since ten o'clock in the morning, wagons had been arriving from the East. Some stopped; some passed on toward the Mississippi; others branched off on trails leading Northwest and Southwest; none had carried those for whom the young blacksmith so eagerly looked.

He was ready for his family—ready to give them a future greater than any of which they had dreamed. With his own hands he had built a comfortable home. Far and wide, among farmers and mill men, he had established a high reputation as a blacksmith. But that which drew his dreams ahead was the steel plow which he had invented.

He knew he was in the midst of immense soil resources to which his steel plow was the key.

* * *

A small train of ox-drawn wagons toiled slowly into the town and stopped in front of the general store.

From the lead wagon a woman, carefully holding a little bundle, climbed down.

"Here, John take your son," she said, as she returned the joyful greeting of the tall man who had hurried to meet her. "I've carried him in my arms all the way from Vermont."

* * *

All the way from Vermont! Across country by stage coach to Albany, New York; by canal boat to Buffalo; by lake boat up around the Michigan peninsula and down to Chicago; by ox-wagon, camping gypsy-style along the pioneer trail, westward from Chicago to the new home—a wearisome, dangerous journey of weeks and weeks.

That was the pioneer spirit—the spirit that led men and women from comfortable homes out into the wilderness to combat hardships unfamiliar to the present generation—the spirit which conquered the West—the spirit which the development of John Deere's pioneer farm equipment enterprise helped greatly to reward.

Nowadays You Turn a Switch—

Or press a button or turn a valve and a lot of things happen around a home that lighten labor and banish trouble.

Labor and time saving devices have come and are today within the reach of the humblest home.

This company and its employees are striving in every way to improve and develop the service. Because of the necessity of gas and electricity in home life, trade and industry, this business must grow and be successful that you may live well and prosper in this community.

"Jahn & Ollier Again"
ACHIEVEMENT
The goal of every ambitious man and firm is typified in the rapid growth of the Jahn & Ollier Engraving Company—the universal esteem in which their art and plates are held by the large national advertisers—and the enviable reputation for prompt deliveries which they enjoy.
Delivering this same high quality and careful personal supervision to schools has built up for us the largest college and high school annual engraving business in America—400 books yearly.
Thirty thousand square feet of floor space (4 floors) and over two hundred and fifty skilled employees are required to meet the constant demand for "J&O" commercial photographs, art, color process plates and photo engraving (one complete floor is devoted to color process work).
Intelligent supervision of all work by many skillful office service men eliminates your troubles. Sales service men sent everywhere
